LABORITE STEPS INTO ARGUMENT

Woodworth's Sub-amendment
Rouses Ire of McNigh

Continued From

OTTAWA, June 24.—Nine more hours of house debate on the Customs report brought a sub-amendment to the Conservative amendment. The sub-amendment came from J. S. Woodworth, Labor member from Winnipeg, at the end of a speech which was marked by more stormy scenes than have been witnessed during the two days of debate. The effect of Mr. Woodworth's sub-amendment, if adopted, would be to strike from the Conservative amendment all the words following the preamble and to make other amendments to the terms of the Customs report. Chief among the recommendations of the sub-amendment are:

- (1) That a judicial committee be appointed to investigate administration of the Customs Department.
- (2) That the name of H. B. Pearson, deputy minister of customs, be added to the list of those whose services should be dispensed of.

The sub-amendment also cuts out the name of J. M. McPherson, minister of finance, and of the government.

When the sub-amendment was read, Mr. Woodworth, the Labor member, raised a point of order. He said that it was not an amendment to the amendment; with the means ing of the rules of the house, that it was a new amendment. "It is only a device to get rid of the amendment," exclaimed Mr. McNigh. "I adopted it, will prevent the issue from deciding on the amendment."

Mrs. H. B. Pearson, above, being thrown by "Tom Thoms," the Duchess of Devonshire, famous jumper, which broke as a barrier during the Woodworth House, June 24, while Mrs. H. B. Pearson and her horse "Blackie," right, sailed across with ease.

Laborite Sub-amendment
The House Laborite member of finance, argued that the sub-amendment was in order. He tried that it presented an alternative to meet the issue of the day. He did not feel able to vote either for the original report or for the Conservative amendment.

Arguments went back and forth between the two sides of the house. Eventually, Speaker, Mr. Bennett, announced that he would defer his decision until the house meets again at 2 o'clock this afternoon. A few minutes later the house adjourned.

Proceedings opened rather late in the evening. W. T. Lucas of "Canoe," replied to what against the government in the last division. He said that Mr. Lucas did not know whether he would vote in the coming division. He said he intended to vote for the Conservative amendment.

Mr. Woodworth, the Labor member, interrupted Mr. Lucas. He said that he was not interested in the coming division. He said that he was interested in the present division. He said that he was interested in the present division.

TORIES ROUSED OVER EXPENDITURES

Enthusiastic Meeting Addressed by Local Conservative Candidates

Province Overrun by Inspectors Despite Economy Promises

That the so-called Farmer government which came into power in 1921 on a policy of economy, and which was elected in Alberta, has collected $50,000,000 in taxes in a five year period, but has spent $300,000,000, and that the debt of the province is now $1,000,000,000, was the theme of a speech made by Hon. R. B. Bennett K.C. who aroused enthusiasm among an audience that filled the hall of the Presbyterian Church last night.

Dadnading rights or arduous Mr. Bennett set himself out to prove that the Tories were not the cause of the province's financial trouble. He pointed out that the Tories had been in power since 1921, and that the province had been run by a series of mismanagements. He said that the Tories were the cause of the province's financial trouble, and that the Liberals were the only party that could save the province. Murder of Missionary's Wife In China Not Work of Madman

Reports Indicate Mrs. Sibley Was Victim of Boxerism

With a blow in the face planted his foot on her chest and severed her throat with a knife.

Many Chinese witnessed the slaying but none interfered and even the police permitted the assassin to depart. The information said. When the slaying was later arrested and shot, someone produced a white-trimmed coffin for his body.

The theory that Mrs. Sibley had been killed by a madman was discounted when the following day a "Man Hater" in American Bethel missionary, was dragged from a farmhouse by a Chinese who attempted to strangle her. She escaped by running to the house, but the Chinese man followed her to the assistance of her servant.

JOHN and FAY MILBURN had a home of their own short-ly after their better girl is born, and the advertising agency in which John is partner and copy writer lands a new contract. Among their acquaintances are:

NOEL and VERA DAVIS, whose marriage is very new, and each of whom leaves the other to do as he pleases. Previous chapters told how Vera showed an interest in John, which he did not reciprocate, but which nevertheless aroused her feelings. John, in love with his wife, but a romantic individual, was fascinated on meeting NEIL, friend of whom FAY DAVIS, a friend of his, first told him of having trouble with her husband.

Fay took the baby to Minneapolis to visit her parents and, during her absence, her husband, who was a little nervous, was around a stall with that fellow, whose wild reputation had aroused the suspicions of his wife.

When Fay returns, John tells her he had not seen her husband. FAY, who is not a very good guess, said that she had seen him, and that he had been in the city for some time. John, who is not a very good guess, said that he had seen him, and that he had been in the city for some time.
